Storytelling describes the social and cultural activity of sharing stories, sometimes with improvisation, theatrics, or embellishment. Every culture has its own stories or narratives, which are shared as a means of entertainment, education, cultural preservation or instilling moral values. Crucial elements of stories and storytelling include plot, characters and narrative point of view. Storytelling and drama share a number of features which make them natural to integrate during lessons. Both build on children’s innate capacity for fantasy and imaginative play and even very young children can differentiate between the conventions of a story or drama and real life. Digital storytelling is a short form of digital media production that allows everyday people to share aspects of their story. The media used may include the digital equivalent of film techniques full motion video with sound, stills audio only or any of the other forms of non-physical media material that exists only as electronic files as opposed to actual paintings or photographs on paper. Virtual reality and mixed reality for virtual learning VLE also fosters the elementary students with the creative and imaginative skills by telling stories. For example, Cavazza builds a Virtual Interactive Storytelling. This should make possible real time story generation and henceforth user intervention in the storyline.
