are redefining identities pushing boundaries and awakening politically in powerful and surprising ways many afro-latino indigenous muslim queer and undocumented living in large cities and small towns are voices who have been chronically overlooked in how the diverse population of almost sixty million latinos in the u s has been represented no longer in this empowering cross country travelogue journalist and activist paola ramos embarks on a journey to find the communities of people defining the controversial term latinx she introduces us to the indigenous oaxacans who rebuilt the main street in a post industrial town in upstate new york the las poderosas who fight for reproductive rights in texas the musicians in milwaukee whose beats reassure others of their belonging as well as drag queens environmental activists farmworkers and the migrants detained at our border drawing on intensive field research as well as her own personal story ramos chronicles how latinx has given rise to a sense of collectivity and solidarity among latinos unseen in this country for decades a vital and inspiring work of reportage finding latinx calls on all of us to expand our understanding of what it means to be latino and what it means to be american the first step towards change writes ramos is for us to recognize who we are a girl with anxiety disorder finds an unlikely friend and emotional support animal in the form of an adorable fainting goat twelve year old marvel is afraid of absolutely everything amusement park rides food poisoning earthquakes and that big island of plastic floating through the ocean she also obsesses about smaller worries like making friends getting called on by the teacher and walking home alone her parents and the school therapist call her worries an anxiety disorder but marvel calls them armor if something can happen it will she needs to be prepared but when marvel stumbles on a group of older kids teasing a baby goat that has mysteriously shown up on the soccer field she momentarily forgets to be afraid and rescues the frightened animal only butter isn't any old goat she's a fainting goat when butter feels panic she freezes up and falls over marvel knows exactly how butter feels and precisely what butter needs her twelve year old marvel is afraid of absolutely everything amusement park rides food poisoning earthquakes and that big island freezes up and falls over marvel knows exactly how butter feels and precisely what butter needs her soon the two are inseparable and butter thrives under marvel's support but butter also helps marvel everything is better with butter by her side and marvel starts to imagine a life in which she doesn't have to be so afraid until she's told she might have to give up butter forever will marvel find a way to fight for her friend or will she revert back to the anxious lonely person she used to be treating such issues as animal sex species politics environmental justice lesbian space and gay ghettos aids literatures and queer nationalities this lively collection asks important questions at the intersections of sexuality and environmental studies contributors from a wide range of disciplines present a focused engagement with the critical philosophical and political dimensions of sex and nature these discussions are particularly relevant to current debates in many disciplines including environmental studies queer theory critical race theory philosophy literary criticism and politics as a whole queer ecologies stands as a powerful corrective to views that equate natural with straight while queer is held to be against nature anansi the spider figures out a way to trick his friends until guinea fowl figures out a way to turn the tables on annasi the truth is scarier than fiction keri wolf has joined the crew of the seekers a show that searches for paranormal phenomena as they explore a supposedly haunted old inn on the road between philadelphia and harrisburg the place is famous for its warm welcome and infamous for being the site of an ax murder rampage in the 1920s they've barely begun when a very real dead body is discovered in the basement as a nonfiction author keri is supposed to be the rational one but she can't explain a terrifying apparition that seems to be both a threat and a warning former detective joe dunhill knows what she's going through the strange gift of being able to see and talk to the dead is a struggle he shares a new member of the fbi s krew of hunters he s on the team investigating the disturbing death the town is steeped in old fashioned superstition and the deeper joe and kerri plunge into the dark secrets of the inn the closer they get to a devastating truth will a bloody history be repeated or can the spirits of the past reach out to stop a killer the story of a personal housing crisis that led to a discovery of the true value of home incredibly moving to find peace and a sense of home after a life so profoundly affected by the housing crisis is truly inspirational raynor winn bestselling author of the salt path aged thirty one catrina davies was renting a box room in a house in bristol which she shared with four other adults and a child working several jobs and never knowing if she could make the rent she felt like she was breaking apart homesick for the landscape of her childhood in the far west of cornwall catrina decides to give up the box room and face her demons as a child she saw her family and their security torn apart now she resolves to make a tiny dilapidated shed a home of her own with the freedom to write surf and make music catrina rebuilds the shed and piece by piece her own sense of self on the border of civilisation and wilderness between the woods and the sea she discovers the true value of home while trying to find her place in a fragile natural world this is the story of a personal housing crisis and a country wide one grappling with class economics mental health and nature it shows how housing can trap us or set us free and what it means to feel at home chronicling the last radical architectural group of the twentieth century natØ narrative architecture today who emerged from the architectural association at the start of the 1980s this book explores the group s work which echoed a wider artistic and literary culture that drew on the specific political social and physical condition of 1980s london it traces nat s identification with a particular stream of post punk postmodern expression a celebration of the abject an aesthetic of entropy and a do it yourself provisionality natØ has most often been documented in reference to nigel coates the instigator of natØ which has led to a one sided one dimensional record of nat s place in architectural history this book sets out a more detailed contextual history of natØ told through photographs drawings and ephemera restoring a truer polyvocal narrative of the group s ethos and development introduction the guns of august contours of russian foreign policy bulldogs fighting under the rug the making of russian foreign policy resetting expectations russia and the united states europe between integration and confrontation rising china and russia s asian vector playing with home field advantage russia and its post soviet neighbors conclusion dealing with russia s foreign policy reawakening do not miss this book authentically terrifying stephen king a
